Submission and materials

Upload your film to Vimeo, YouTube or Dropbox and enter it in the entry form (online) from 10 June to 25 October 2024.

Copyright

The festival undertakes to use the films submitted exclusively for selection and the materials of the films selected exclusively for screening during the festival.

The filmmaker, producer or distributor who submits the film declares that they are the copyright owner and have acquired or make legitimate use of all the contents of the film. The Festival is not responsible for any complaint resulting from a breach of copyright for the public exhibition of films containing protected material.

Selection

The management of ANIMAC will make the selection according to the criteria it deems appropriate. The organization will make public the selected ones on its website on January 2025. ANIMAC will contact in writing with the selected ones, since the selected films must be sent in the optimal projection format. Projection copies must not be encrypted.

Promotion

The images provided can be used to illustrate the different ANIMAC promotional and communication materials (programme, magazine, catalogue, press, website and other media). The organisation undertakes to use the different promotional materials exclusively to promote a film, respecting the conditions provided for on the registration form.

Acceptance of conditions

Participating in ANIMAC implies full acceptance of these conditions
